CPDA Training Programs

Today, public defenders and private practitioners have the opportunity to attend a wide variety of continuing legal education programs developed by CPDA over the past 44 years. This 44th Annual Basic Trial Skills Institute Program is designed to give defenders the opportunity to fine tune and concentrate on major aspects of trial practice through the use of demonstrations, lectures, and small group practice sessions using video tape to analyze each participant's approach to the various segments (i.e., cross-examination and final argument). Note: This program is held on the campus of the University of San Diego, Alcala Park (USD, not UCSD)

This program is produced in cooperation with the California State Emergency Management Agency. LV15
